Jim Andrassy has put Kent State wrestling into the national spotlight and kept it there. Andrassy has been a part of KSU's program for 27 seasons, including the last 14 as head coach.

In 11 of the last 12 seasons, the Golden Flashes have sent four or more qualifiers to the NCAA Championships and five or more qualifiers in nine of those seasons. In eight of the last 12 seasons, Kent State finished in the top two spots of the Mid-American Conference standings and compiled a 145-81-1 dual meet record. Named Mid-American Conference Coach of the Year in 2009, Andrassy has helped produce 11 All-American performances from six different wrestlers including a 2011 national champion (Dustin Kilgore) and four NCAA top 25 team finishes.

Cost: $50 per wrestler. Please make checks payable to SCYW first day of camp.

Registration: The camp will be capped at 60 wrestlers so it is important to reserve your spot. For registration and questions please contact Coach Butler at scywrestlingclub@gmail.com
